A DAY IN THE LIFE OF A HIGHLAND DOCTOR May 23, 1965

Doctor DAVID SNYDER is a very famous graduate of Highland High School. His day is very busy, but one day in particular was special. In his hospital was everyone of his classmates, and he decided to visit them.

First, he went to see CAROL ZENK. Carol is a nursery-schoolbus driver. She is in the hospital because one little tot bit her leg! Doctor David next visited JEANNE NASH. Jeanne is a famous actress. Her producer believes in realism—she's in the hospital with a broken leg from jumping a victory cheer. In the next semi-private room was JEANNETTE DAMON. Jan is an airline hostess, resting from a seige of air sickness. Bunking with her is Navy General DOTTIE HIRSH. Dot fell out of her ship into the water and she couldn't swim.

In the next ward was MARY BOLAS, a private secretary. Mary had jammed her fingers in her typewriter. DOTTIE DONKIN, a child psychologist, was kicked in the shins by a loving charge. IRENE KUFCHAK, a director of a Business and Comptometer's School, is resting from shock when ALICE GIULIANO passed her secretarial course. KAY SNYDER, a professional cheerleader, has a sore sacroiliac MARILYN SILBERHORN, a T.V. cook, has ptomaine poisoning from eating her own cooking, and NORMA MUDRA, a fiddle player for the Boston PopCorn Orchestra, is in the hospital for sore ears. She listened to too much of her practicing.

Before going into the next ward, the doctor was joined by BETTY BRAMLEY, the Superintendent of Nurses. Together they entered the ward. Here they saw JAN BALTRUSAITIS resting in the sunshine. While on her way up the ladder of success in her modeling career, she sprained her ankle. PHYLLIS BOSWELL, a novelist, writing a book called "Common Every Day Words to Use," has writers' cramps. ARDINE DEMETER, a T.V. commentator, has laryngitis. JANICE DUNCAN, a college professor, pretended to be ill, because she was being chased by the college fellows. BARBARA DUNLAP, the fastest typist in the world, has a sprained little finger.

The doctor felt hungry and went to lunch. He rushed back to finish visiting the girls. ANNAMAE HUFF, a perfume manufacturer, has a cold and can't smell a thing. FAYE FOWLER, an assistant to Einstein, has a broken thumb where her employer absentmindly stepped on it. PHYLLIS HARD, a children's book illustrator, has amnesia and now she illustrates adult books with baby pictures. DOLORES LEHMAN, a beautician, is in the hospital with burned, frizzed hair. BETTY MAXIMUK, an interior decorator, had surgery after she swallowed a mouthful of pins. NANCY MORRELL, a ballet dancer, has a black eye from falling on her ballet shoes. CLAUDIA OWENS, a beauty expert, is resting from a bad time making over a thoroughly homely woman. And last of all, the doctor visited MARIE SACHER, a narrator for educational films.

The day was well spent and doctor being very tried, went home and slept soundly.

The next day he visited the fellow graduates again. In the first ward was AL CVANCIGER, a dairy farmer, who was kicked by one of his prize steers. LARRY WILSON, a pilot, faints at high altitudes. RICH BATKE, an electrician, was working on a light cord and was shocked. ROGER FEESS, a long-distance truck driver, got homesick twenty miles from home. DARWIN STEELE, a jeweler, is in the hospital for shock when his Hope Diamond was stolen and Darwin hadn't had it insured. SPENCER BERG, speed champion, caught cold from a breeze he created when he ran the mile dash. And JOE SMITH, a Parisian hairdresser, received a broken nose, when one of his clients' husbands became jealous.

In the next private room was GEORGE THOMP-SON, a millionaire, with ulcers from eating too many foreign foods.

The next ward was very interesting to the doctor. Here he saw DALE GOOD, a cattle raiser, in the hospital because he ate some of the famous Good Beef. Joe Lee, a Navy Ensign, walked in his sleep and he forgot he was in mid-ocean! BOB HUMMEL, a bank president, is hiding out from his nagging wife. But EUGENE HATCH, a secret service agent, is after Bob, who really isn't as safe as he thinks.

The next private room was guarded, because behind those doors is President WILLIAM MILLER. The President has callouses on his hand from playing too much golf.

The next ward held PAUL YOUNG, a Model T Ford salesman, with a sore nose which he received by sticking it in the wrong door. JOHN EDWARDS, a pianist tickled the keys until they had too much, and they tickled him back. RALPH VITT, a drummer, was hit on the head while serenading his love. WHEELER WILSON, a stamp licker for the government, has a sticky tongue. BILL CASE, an advertiser for an elevated shoe company, grinned so wide his mouth stuck in place. And of course, JOHN MY-ERS, a professional model photographer, has a broken jaw where he walked into a door (??).

On the next floor, WALT COLEMAN was having a complete nervous breakdown. He sold too many annuals while he was at Highland and it still affects him. LEROY PELOT, a boxer, is resting from exhaustion. He was chased around the ring until he collapsed. TIM GEE, a weight-lifter, has sprained muscles. RAY BATKE, a designer for Happy Honeymoon cottages, has a slight concussion. While inspecting one of his homes, the roof fell in. BRAD BURTON, a scrub-man, has washwoman's knees, and they hurt. JERRY NEHRENZ, a pickpocket, got his hands caught in a mousetrap.

The poor doctor was walking more and more slowly. Finally he came to the last ward. He opened the door and pricked up immediately. In this room was LARRY RICH-EY, a chorus director, with a case of nerves. In fact, he's so nervous he keeps losing his musical beat! GARY RUCK-EL, a sun lotion manufacturer, has a terrible case of sunburn. LEE SYLVESTER, a carpenter, hit the wrong "nail" and broke his finger. ROY HARTMAN, a dairy farmer, specializing in Holstein, has spots in front of his eyes. DENNIS BURDETT, a medicine man for "The Cure All for Man and Beast", was originally ill with indigestion, but now he's sick from third degree burns in the stomach. VINCENT KOPFSTEIN, a text-book salesman, was attacked by the A. S. A. (Anti-School-Association). DON STINGLEY, a tack manufacturer, sat on his own product.

Doctor David had ended another day at his hospital.

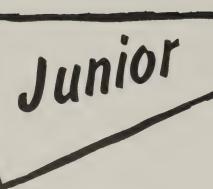

And what a day that was! He went home to his lovely wife and five girls and lived happily ever after.

GOOD PERFORMANCE GIVEN BY PLAYERS

This year's football story is quite a successful one for the team because they finished the year with a league record of five wins and one defeat. One of the main reasons if not the reason for this fine record was our very capable line. Never did they receive any glory, but they still worked hard making holes for the backs to run through, blocking down field, and always remaining a constant threat to their opponent's offense. Our hats are off to our linemen, Ted McVay, Larry Swain, Don Stingley, Dennis Oles, Dale Good, Elwin Rickert, Ronnie Willard, David Owens, and Gail Ruckel. Our prospects for next year look very good, because all but two of the boys will be back.

R. Willard, M. Webster, G. Ruckel, P. Young, G. Ruckel, L. Swain, L. Bergstrom, R. Louk.

THE COURT SCENE

Dennis Oles, Dave Owens, Doc Duncan, and Gail Ruckel represented the other two classes. The reserve team also ended a good year. Their record was eleven wins and four defeats.

CHEERLEADERS LEAD APPLAUSE

Come on, team, you make the baskets; we'll make the noise! Making the noise is the job of the cheerleaders in high school sports. They unite the efforts of the spectators in backing the team.

There are two teams of cheerleaders, one for the varsity and one for the reserve.

At the end of the basketball season the cheerleaders can compete with other teams of the county in the Medina County Cheerleading contests.

Up and Up! Highland Varsity exhibits top-notch form.

Down the floor comes Highland Hornets! Both cheerleading teams lead audience in singing school songs at pep meetings.

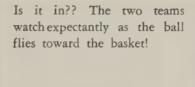

We're with you team! Highland reserve cheerleaders cheer their team to victory at Lodi High School against the Lodi Tigers.

The ball heads for the basket despite efforts of Brunswick player to block Ted McVay's shot.

A beautiful shot!! Mike Webster displays shooting form as he adds two more points to Highland's score.

Make that Basket!! David Owens scores two points against Lodi in season play.

Jump, Jump, Make that Jump!! Reserve player Gail Ruckel, outjumps opponent for possession of the ball.

CHOOSING OUR LEADERS

This year the government class, under the direction of Mr. Rios, held an election modeled after the national elections. The students voted for the candidates of the Student Council and for the candidates of their own class. The candidates' names were printed on the ballots and the voting booths were set up.

In the pictures we see the students going through the different phases of voting. First, there are the campaign speeches. Next we see a student registering, then coming out, and then the final step, putting it in the ballot box.

Finally the votes were counted and the officers were announced. The whole job was done efficiently and the school is proud of the government class. From now on the elections will be an annual event.

Ping-pong champions visited Highland to demonstrate some interesting techniques of the game. Some of the Highland students were asked to oppose the experts.

Highland students demonstrate some of the things they have learned at school in satirical skits.

ACT-III

ACTIVITIES

Heading the annual organization this year are its Adviser, Mrs. Myers; Editor-Janice Duncan; Assistant Editor-Darlene Beachler, and Business Manager-Bob Hummel. This group oversees the making of the annual and attends to all of the special details of the book. Here all the work is checked and re-checked as it is prepared to go to press. Pictures and stories of all of the year's special events are included in the book and they are tied together by the theme which is a quotation from Shakespeare's play "As You Like It." Together these things furnish a book which we will always remember.

HI-LITES REPORTS NEWS

The Hi-Lites has kept us up-to-date on all the news of the various acts. The paper is headed this year by the Editor, J. Nash and Associate Editor, L. Cady. The paper has been improved a great deal this year and has been a much larger one. They have tried printing on both sides of the paper and also had a very nice cover on the Christmas edition.

The Hi-Lites staff wishes to thank their new adviser, Miss Bly, for all the help she has given the staff.

LIGHTS, CAMERA, ACTION

The newest act around Highland is the Camera Club. With the help of their adviser, Mr. Wm. Jedlicka, they have taken most of the pictures of the football games, basketball games and other special events which have been connected with the school. They have a 4 x 5 Graphic camera, a 35 mm. camera, and an 8 mm. movie camera with which to take their pictures.

There are ten students enrolled in the course. (No scholastic credits given). They have a class in theory and technique every Monday and the rest of the week they may use the lab for developing and printing their pictures. Just recently a new enlarger has been added to their laboratory equipment.

They have taken field trips to the "News Banner" office in Wadsworth and the Carpenter Studio in Akron.

Our point-system encourages the girls to attend school activities and aids in their social adjustments. Under this system, if, at the end of the school year, the girls have the sufficient number of points, they receive letters or some other type of reward. Among the things they planned for the year were swimming, bowling, roller skating and a semi-formal dance.

THE GIRLS GET INTO THE ACT DIRECTORS OF TOMORROW

The purpose of F. T. A. is to encourage high school students to become teachers. In this the idea is to learn some of the inside facts of the teaching profession. Within the past school year the club has visited other schools, attended college classes, and taught in the absence of teachers of our own school. These activities have proved to be informative and very interesting to its members; and through these activities they hope to become better teachers for the future.

CHORUS AND GLEE AND THE STAGE IS SET FOR SONG

Into the spotlight comes the Chorus and the Girls' Glee Club. This year they were divided into two different groups. The mixed Chorus had an enrollment of forty-eight and the Girls' Glee Club an enrollment of fifty-eight. At the Christmas Concert, the Chorus sang a Christmas Cantata and the Glee Club sang a group of Christmas numbers. Both groups participated in the Spring Music Festival in cooperation with the band.

The Chorus and Glee Club members took part in the County Music Festival held at Seville, and twenty members of our group sang in the special all-county chorus.

THE ACTORS AND ACTRESSES SING

M. Edwards; A. Guiliano; P. Rickert; B. Olden; D. Hirsh; D. Beachler; L. Cady; M. Guiliano; S. Valentine; C. Godfrey; P. Hodgman.

Groups of the girls and boys of our story work together with the music teacher to bring the enjoyment of music to Highland. These smaller groups of voices are selected from the Chorus and Glee Club. They do most of their singing for themselves, but once in a while the other students get to hear them. The Jr.-Sr. Girls' Ensemble sang at the Senior Play, "Lunatics at Large"

A. Donkin; P. Elliott; E. Phillips; S. Divoky; M. Saunders; J. Kline; D. Goodman; R. Stoll.

No one will harm a hair of your bee-yoo-ti-ful head!

We'll kill 'em! We'll scalp 'em!

Don and Lucille Cutter were the owners of a home for mental cases with Doctor Janet Reed in charge. They had four guests who played the lunatic parts to perfection. When unexpected company, Mr. and Mrs. Stevens, Mrs. Adair, Mr. Burke arrived, and later Mr. Burke was murdered, the quiet routine was considerably interrupted. Inspector Britt arrived to solve the case. The characters go through a series of complications each one becoming a suspect. Finally Wing, the family valet, does some detecting on his own and discovers the murderer to be Doctor Janet. Since Burke was a known criminal, Doctor Janet was not held. So the play ended happily with the release of Doctor Janet and the appearance of $10,000 belonging to Don and Lucille.

Burke! He's dead!

All right somebody better talk and talk quick! Who killed Burke?

A Special

Performance

Queen Claudia was crowned at the Homecoming Dance with a crown of white carnations by her escort, Larry Bergstrom.

Homecoming week-end always means big festivities and everyone was thrilled and excited as the week-end was climaxed by the Homecoming game and dance. The queen, Claudia Owens, was crowned amid the splendor of music and lovely decorations. She was crowned by her escort, Larry Bergstrom. Her crown was of white carnations and she carried a bouquet of red roses. Claudia and all of her attendants were lovely as they proceeded to the stage where the ceremony was held. Queen Claudia reigned over the dance as the couples danced to the music of Don Anderson as the week-end was completed.

MUSICIANS TAKE A BREAK

Jan Baultrausaitis reigned over this year's Annual Band Dance. The theme was that of winter. The decorations were very realistic, with plastic snowflakes dangling from the ceiling, and a beautiful Christmas tree on the stage. Everyone enjoyed the formal and hope that next year's will be as good.

Sr. attendant Dolores Lehman and Escort Walter Coleman lead the procession across the gym floor to the throne to await the arrival of the queen.

THE MAY DAY SCENE ~

The queen, Janice Duncan, was crowned by 1953 May Queen, Janet Scholz. The Queen's crown was of white stephanotis and her bouquet was red roses

Many colored balloons floated down to cover the floor as the Queen and her attendants danced the "Queen's Dance."

Queen Janice, her escort, Bill Fogle, and the attendants are served refreshments after the ceremony.

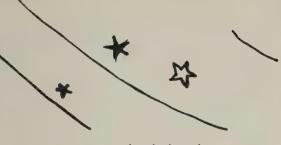

The scene of the May Day festivities was the auditorium which was decorated with large maypoles, multi-colored streamers, and balloons, and a large crowd danced to the beautiful music of Donald Anderson's band. During the intermission of the dance, Janice Duncan was crowned Queen of the 1954 May Day. The 1953 May Queen, Janet Scholz, performed the ceremony which was held in the middle of the floor where the white throne was located. Students from each of the classes participated in the ceremony as the Queen's attendants. The Queen reigned over the Student Council-sponsored dance for the rest of the lovely evening.

Mr. Vermillion spoke during the program following the dinner. Several teachers spoke and students read the class will and prophecy.

Students and teachers alike join the dancing to the beautiful music of Bill Andrie's band. The dimly lit room made a pretty background for handsome boys and lovely girls dressed in evening finery.

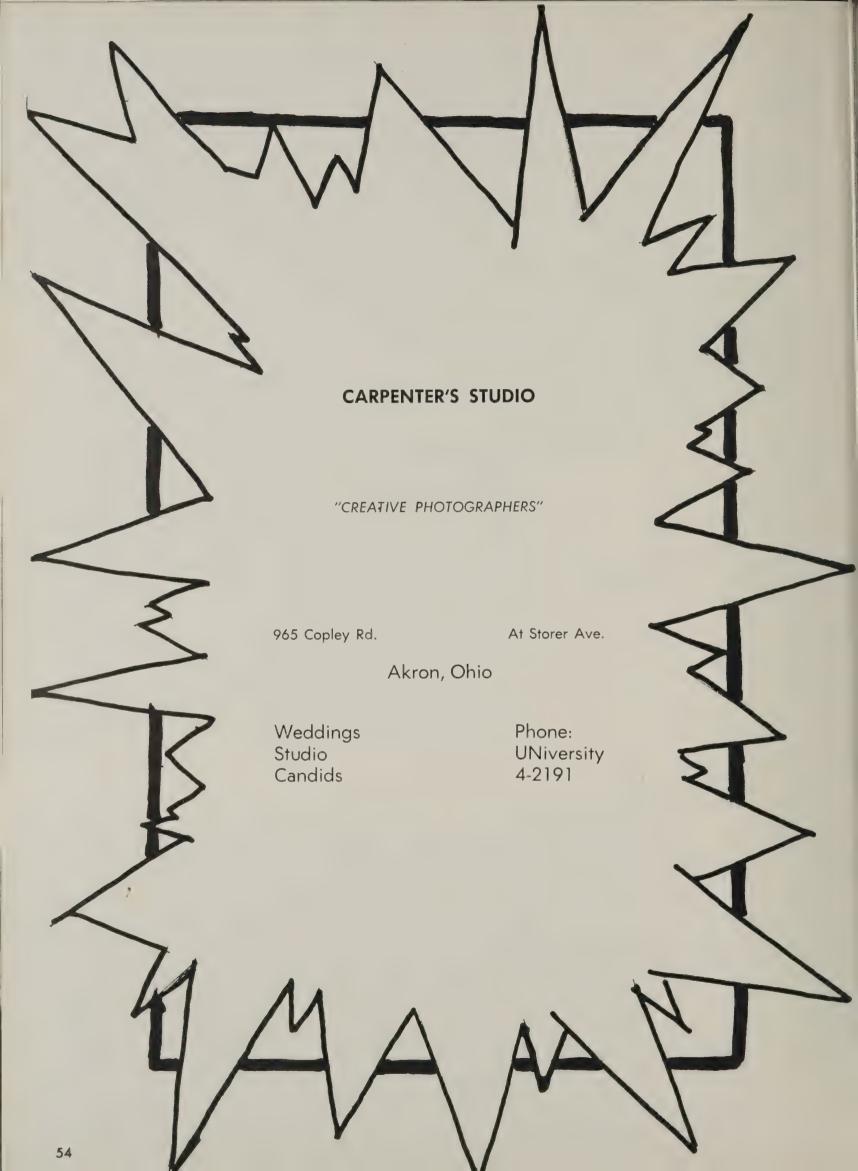

Many of the teachers make use of the facilities of the lounge where they could enjoy refreshments and the entertainment of television.
